Work Experiences

Site Reliability Engineer at BaxEnergy

As a Site Reliability Engineer, I manage and provision cloud environments on Azure, leveraging tools like Terraform, Ansible, GitHub Enterprise, and Octopus Deploy to drive automation, applying DevOps practices with a developer mindset. I collaborate with developers to build and maintain efficient CI/CD pipelines and work closely with customers to implement tailored network configurations and optimize cloud resources to meet specific needs.

 March 2024 - now
BaxEnergy Italia Srl

Full-Stack Software Developer at BaxEnergy

As a fullstack developer at BaxEnergy, I contributed to the core application using C#, AngularJS, Angular 9, and Python, focusing on both frontend and backend development. I worked on real-time data exchange solutions with industrial protocols like OPC UA, XDA, and DA, and utilized SQL-like databases to handle and manage historical data.

 October 2022 - March 2024
BaxEnergy Italia Srl

Full stack Angular/C# developer

I worked at ntFrame Solutions s.r.l. as a full-stack web developer using Angular 10, C# 9, Firebird, and SQLite. I maintained several modules for the main management application, as well as the application itself, and I created a new application for the cash points in the supermarkets.

 September 2020 - April 2022
ntFrame Solutions s.r.l.

Python/Qt5 developer

That was a school experience during the summer, when I worked in the IT department at STMicroelectronics as a Python desktop developer using Qt5.

 May 2019 - July 2019
